HANDKERCHIEFS

Damaged by Water, at Less Than Half Price.

D URING the recent floods at Passalc, N. J., manufacturers suffered considerable loss. Acheson, Harden & Co., manufacturers of fine linen and cotton Handkerchiefs, had 25,000 dozen damaged by water. The entire stock was sold without reserve by Townsend & Montant. We ought a considerable quantity of them-almost 5,000 dozen, at a fraction of their worth, and offer them equally as cheap.

The quicker these Handkerchiefs are dried the better they will on the entire purchase that will induce you to buy large quantities.

Remember, these handkerchiefs were wet by fresh water and are hardly injured. The lot includes Linen and Cotton Handkerchiefs for men, women and children. Most of them are plain white hemstitched; a few have colored borders, but the colors are fast and did not run.

Just four assortments have been made of the entire purchase.
